CHICAGO, December 6, 1871.

To the Officers of the Germania, Hanover, Niagara and Republic Fire Ins. Co.'s of New York.

GENTLEMEN. The course pursued by your Companies in the adjustment and payment of our own claims, and so far as we know, ALL claims for losses in the great fire in Chicago, has been so highly honorable, prompt and straightforward, and marked by such apparent desire to deal justly towards all parties, under all circumstances, that we desire voluntarily to acknowledge it to the business public. We conceive that no stronger test could be made, both of the responsibility and of the integrity of an Insurance organization, than yours has passed through so successfully and creditably. With an unimpaired Capital and undiminished responsibility, and a record for equitable settlement, certainly surpassed by none, we congratulate you on the career of future prosperity, to which your actions here have so justly entitled you, and remain,

PROPERTY EXEMPTED FROM EXECUTION IN ILLINOIS.

The provisions of an act passed by the last Legislature in reference to exemptions from sales under execution are of such importance to both debtors and creditors, that we publish the main sections of the law entire:

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, Represented in the General Assembly, That every householder having a family shall be entitled to an estate or homestead to the extent, in value, of fifteen hundred dollars, in the farm or lot of land and buildings thereon owned or rightly possessed by lease or otherwise, and occupied by him or her as a residence; and such homestead and all right and title therein shall be exempt from attachment, judgment, levy or execution, sale for the payment of his debts, or other purposes, and from the laws of conveyance, descent, and devise, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Such exemption shall continue after the death of such household, for the benefit of the husband or wife surviving, so long as he or she continues to occupy such homestead, and of the children until the youngest child becomes 21 years of age; and in case the husband or wife shall desert his or her family, the exemption shall continue in favor of the one occupying the premises as a resident.

SEC. 3. But no property shall by virtue of this act, be exempt from sale for non-payment of taxes, or assessments, or for a debt or liability incurred for the purchase or improvement thereof.

SEC. 4. No release, waiver or conveyance of the estate so exempted shall be valid unless the same is in writing, subscribed by said householder and his or her wife or husband, if he or she have one, and acknowledged, or possession is abandoned or given pursuant to the conveyance, or, if the exemption is continued to a child or children, without the order of the court directing release thereof.

PERSONAL PROPERTY EXEMPT.

SEC. 13. The following articles of personal property owned by the debtor shall be exempt from execution, writ or attachment and distress for rent, viz:

First.—The necessary wearing apparel of every person.

Second—One sewing machine.

Third—The furniture, tools and implements necessary to carry on his trade or business, not exceeding one hundred dollars in value.

Fourth—The implements or library of any professional man, not exceeding one hundred dollars in value.

Fifth—Materials and stock designed and procured by him and necessary for carrying on his trade or business, and intended to be used or wrought therein, not exceeding one hundred dollars in value.

And also, when the debtor is the head of a family and resides with the same, the following property:

First—Necessary beds, beadsteads and bedding, two stoves and pipe.

Second—Necessary household furniture, not exceeding in value two hundred dollars.

Third—One cow, two swine, two sheep for each member of the family, and the fleece taken from the same, and the yarn and cloth that may be manufactured from the same.

Fourth—One yoke of oxen, or two horses in lieu thereof, worth not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, with the harness therefor.

Fifth—Necessary provision and fuel for the use of the family for three months, and necessary food hereinbefore exempt, for the same time.

Sixth—The Bibles, school books, and family pictures.

Seventh—The family library.

Eighth—Cemetery lots or rights of burial and tombs or repositories for the dead.

Ninth—One hundred dollars' worth of other property suited to his condition in life, selected by the debtor.

SEC. 14. When the debtor has not any or all the specific articles hereinbefore exempted, he may select others of equal value in their stead, or he may retain the value thereof in money, if he shall so elect.

SEC. 15. Such personal property shall continue to be exempt while the family of such person, or any of them, are removing from one place of residence to another in this State.

SEC. 16. When the head of a family shall die, desert or not reside with the same, the family shall be entitled to and receive all the benefits and privileges which are in this acted conferred upon the head of a family residing with the same.

SEC. 17. The household property hereinbefore mentioned shall not be exempt from an attachment and execution issued in an action to recover the purchase money for the same property.

THE PLATFORM.

The following is the Platform adopted by the National Republican Convention at Philadelphia:

The Republican party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country.

1. During the eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated 4,000,000 slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage, exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity. It criminally punished no man for political offense, and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased with a firm hand the resultant disorders of the great war, and indicated a wise policy towards the Indians. The Pacific railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generally aided and successfully conducted. The public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of naturalized citizens' rights secured from European powers. A uniform national currency has been provided, repudiation frowned down, the national credit sustained under the most extraordinary burdens, and new bonds negotiated at lower rates. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied; despite the annual large reductions of the rates of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during Gen. Grant's Presidency at the rate of one hundred millions of dollars a year; a great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land.—Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the nation kept in high respect throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the paryt's best pledge for the future. We believe the people will not intrust the government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who have resisted every step of this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and federal legislation. Neither the law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to any citizen by reason of race, creed, color or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained, because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are the law, and should be carried out, according to their spirit, by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments.

4. The national government should seek to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the government are considered rewards for mere party zeal is fitly demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage, and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to the further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be set apart for free homes for the people.

7. The annual revenues, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal, and the revenue, except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, should be raised by duties on importations, the duties of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, and promote the industries, growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people, and we favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to the length of time or cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers, concerning allegiance, "once a subject, always a subject," having at last through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of an individuals's right to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former governments, and we urge continual and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary immigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and the way prepared for a speedy reduction in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of so shaping legislation as to secure full protection and the amplest field for capital, and for labor, the creator of capital, the largest opportunities, and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions, and for the protection of the ballot-box, and therefore are entitled to the thanks of the nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of the public debt, in any form or disguise, as a national crime, and we witness with pride the reduction of the principle of the debt and upon the rates of interest upon the balance, and we confidenty expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by the speedy resumption of specie payments.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, and their admission to wider fields of usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve the actions of Congress in extending amnesty to those lately in rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect the rights reserved by the people themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to State and to federal government. It disapproves of a resort to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or national government.

17. It is the duty of the general government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustious services of Ulyssess S. Grant have commended him to the hearts of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

PROPERTY EXEMPTED FROM EXECUTION IN ILLINOIS.

The provisions of an act passed by the last Legislature in reference to exemptions from sales under execution are of such importance to both debtors and creditors, that we publish the main sections of the law entire:

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, Represented in the General Assembly, That every householder having a family shall be entitled to an estate or homestead to the extent, in value, of fifteen hundred dollars, in the farm or lot of land and buildings thereon owned or rightly possessed by lease or otherwise, and occupied by him or her as a residence; and such homestead and all right and title therein shall be exempt from attachment, judgment, levy or execution, sale for the payment of his debts, or other purposes, and from the laws of conveyance, descent, and devise, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Such exemption shall continue after the death of such household, for the benefit of the husband or wife surviving, so long as he or she continues to occupy such homestead, and of the children until the youngest child becomes 21 years of age; and in case the husband or wife shall desert his or her family, the exemption shall continue in favor of the one occupying the premises as a resident.

SEC. 3. But no property shall by virtue of this act, be exempt from sale for non-payment of taxes, or assessments, or for a debt or liability incurred for the purchase or improvement thereof.

SEC. 4. No release, waiver or conveyance of the estate so exempted shall be valid unless the same is in writing, subscribed by said householder and his or her wife or husband, if he or she have one, and acknowledged, or possession is abandoned or given pursuant to the conveyance, or, if the exemption is continued to a child or children, without the order of the court directing release thereof.

PERSONAL PROPERTY EXEMPT.

SEC. 13. The following articles of personal property owned by the debtor shall be exempt from execution, writ or attachment and distress for rent, viz:

First—The necessary wearing apparel of every person.

Second—One sewing machine.

Third—The furniture, tools and implements necessary to carry on his trade or business, not exceeding one hundred dollars in value.

Fourth—The implements or library of any professional man, not exceeding one hundred dollars in value.

Fifth—Materials and stock designed and procured by him and necessary for carrying on his trade or business, and intended to be used or wrought therein, not exceeding one hundred dollars in value.

And also, when the debtor is the head of a family and resides with the same, the following property:

First—Necessary beds, beadsteads and bedding, two stoves and pipe.

Second—Necessary household furniture, not exceeding in value two hundred dollars.

Third—One cow, two swine, two sheep for each member of the family, and the fleece taken from the same, and the yarn and cloth that may be manufactured from the same.

Fourth—One yoke of oxen, or two horses in lieu thereof, worth not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars, with the harness therefor.

Fifth—Necessary provision and fuel for the use of the family for three months, and necessary food hereinbefore exempt, for the same time.

Sixth—The Bibles, school books, and family pictures.

Seventh—The family library.

Eighth—Cemetery lots or rights of burial and tombs or repositeries for the dead.

Ninth—One hundred dollars' worth of other property suited to his condition in life, selected by the debtor.

SEC. 14. When the debtor has not any or all the specific articles hereinbefore exempted, he may select others of equal value in their stead, or he may retain the value thereof in money, if he shall so elect.

SEC. 15. Such personal property shall continue to be exempt while the family of such person, or any of them, are removing from one place of residence to another in this State.

SEC. 16. When the head of a family shall die, desert or not reside with the same, the family shall be entitled to and receive all the benefits and privileges which are in this acted conferred upon the head of a family residing with the same.

SEC. 17. The household property hereinbefore mentioned shall not be exempt from an attachment and execution issued in an action to recover the purchase money for the same property.

THE PLATFORM.

The following is the Platform adopted by the National Republican Convention at Philadelphia:

The Republican party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country.

1. During the eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated 4,000,000 slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage, exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity. It criminally punished no man for political offense, and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased with a firm hand the resultant disorders of the great war, and indicated a wise policy towards the Indians. The Pacific railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generally aided and successfully conducted. The public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of naturalized citizens' rights secured from European powers. A uniform national currency has been provided, repudiation frowned down, the national credit sustained under the most extraordinary burdens, and new bonds negotiated at lower rates. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied; despite the annual large reductions of the rates of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during Gen. Grant's Presidency at the rate of one hundred millions of dollars a year; a great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land.—Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the nation kept in high respect throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the paryt's best pledge for the future. We believe the people will not intrust the government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who have resisted every step of this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and federal legislation. Neither the law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to any citizen by reason of race, creed, color or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained, because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are the law, and should be carried out, according to their spirit, by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured those amendments

4. The national government should seek to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the government are considered rewards for mere party zeal is fitly demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage, and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to the further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be set apart for free homes for the people.

7. The annual revenues, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal, and the revenue, except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, should be raised by duties on importations, the duties of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, and promote the industries, growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people, and we favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to the length of time or cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers, concerning allegiance, "once a subject, always a subject," having at last through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of an individuals's right to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former governments, and we urge continual and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary immigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and the way prepared for a speedy reduction in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of so shaping legislation as to secure full protection and the amplest field for capital, and for labor, the creator of capital, the largest opportunities, and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions, and for the protection of the ballot-box, and therefore are entitled to the thanks of the nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of the public debt, in any form or disguise, as a national crime, and we witness with pride the reduction of the principle of the debt and upon the rates of interest upon the balance, and we confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by the speedy resumption of specie payments.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, and their admission to wider fields of usefulness is received with satisfaction; and the demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve the actions of Congress in extending amnesty to those lately in rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect the rights reserved by the people themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to State and to federal government. It disapproves of a resort to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or national government.

17. It is the duty of the general government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustious services of Ulysses S. Grant have commended him to the hearts of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

HE ACCEPTS.

The committee appointed by the Baltimore Convention to notify Greeley and Brown of their nomination, proceeded to New York yesterday and performed that duty. Doolittle made the presentation speech, and Horace blubberingly accepted the bauble, saying that they were no less Democrats by reason of nominating him, and he was no less a Republican on account of his present associations. He invited them to his "humble home" at the farm—probably to exhibit to them his dexterity as a woodchopper—and the painful interview thereupon ended.

THE New York Post propounds a conundrum to the Greeleyites which is difficult of solution, according to the Cincinnati Commercial and Springfield Republican. It says:

"If the Grant administration has not been able to withstand the Republican rogues, how will a Greeley administration be able to withstand the Republican rogues reinforced by the Democratic rascals."

THE progress of the Democratic party toward Greeley is thus happily calendared by a contemporary:

January—That old idiot Greeley.
February—The eccentric Greeley.
March—Old Horace Greeley.
April—Horace Greeley.
May—Mr. Horace Greeley.
June—Honest Uncle Horace.
July—Hurrah for Greeley.

CONSISTENCY.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN: The Baltimore Convention is over and Horace Greeley has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. This is adopting the passive policy, as first understood and agreed upon by the Liberals and Democracy, with a hugeness. We were told by the Greeley Republicans immediately after his nomination at Cincinnati that Greeley was the reform candidate, and that he was not to be nominated by the Democracy; that Greeley was just as much a Republican now as he ever was—that they did not propose to sell out to the Democracy. That if Greeley was nominated by them, (the Democracy), why then they would vote for the Philadelphia nominee. And how nicely these Liberals and Democrats agree. Mr. Belmont, the great head and front of the Democratic party, said in his address before the Baltimore Convention, that he would support Greeley, because he, G., stood upon a Democratic platform. It seems very strange that what the Liberals call Republicanism Belmont calls good Democracy. It is the first time in the history of politics in this country that two political parties claimed the same set of principles and proposed to vote for the same candidate as their representative man. The Southern Democracy say Greeley is their man. That he will restore peace and harmony to the oppressed South and rid them of the "carpet-bag government." Yes, Greeley promised them all these things May 1st, 1867, on page four, column four of the Tribune, when he said: "Traitors must not return to peaceful and contented homes, but must and poverty at their firesides," &c. There is something sublime, Messrs. Editors, in the wholesale commingling of patriots; such shining stars of political purity" as Tweed, Hall, Sweeney, Garvey, Connelly, Hoffman, Barnard and Winans on the one side, and Trumbull, Schurz, Palmer, Fenton, and Horace White, of the Chicago Tribune, on the other.—Query: If the first eight mentioned were wrong all through the dark days of the rebellion, are they right to-day? Or if the latter five were right during the same time are they wrong to-day? Who in the name of righteousness can tell? Horace White said not long ago, that "Horace Greeley is not now, and never has been, a man who ought to be trusted with an official position requiring practical wisdom, ordinary statesmanship, or firm, consistent action. For twenty-five years he has been a marplot in council, an unreliable commander in action, a misanthrope in victory and a riotous disorganizer in defeat. He has always been fanatical in his demands for the extremest measures, and when the party has reached the eve of triumph, invariably thrusts himself forward as a negotiator of terms of surrender to the enemy." I might quote page after page from Mr. White like the above, wherein he has slathered H. G. up one side and down the other, but the above is enough to show what he once thought of him as a candidate for a high office. Now Horace White says, "Mr. Greeley has rendered great political services to the people. He has shown as great political courage as Jackson, as great honesty as Lincoln. He has as fine a sense of honor and of official delicacy as our earlier Presidents, from Washington to Monroe." If he has, Mr. White, why in the name of truth did you belie him so in my first quotation from your great "Republican paper of the Northwest." As "great honesty as Lincoln!" Yes, he must have been when you say he came to Chicago in 1860, "not to vote for Lincoln, nor Chase, but for old Edward Bates, of Missouri, one of the pupils of the slave party." You say he was "the associate and co-laborer of that other impracticable and unreliable squad—the Blair family." Mr. White reminds me of the old doctor who deposited all the remnants of his various prescriptions into an old brown jug, and when in his practice he came across a patient and could not make his diagnosis, he would resort to his old jug, and swear "he would burst things anyhow." The Liberals and Democrats swear there is something the matter, but they cannot make out their case, so they go to old Incongruity Horace Greeley, and swear he must beat Grant, when Horace has said "he never was beaten and never will be."

Oh, consistency, what a jewel.

A REPUBLICAN.

JULY 11, 1872.

THE Greeley movement has drawn to its support the most dangerous and obnoxious men in the country. Just look at them: Pease of Texas, Warmouth of Louisiana, Jo. Brown of Georgia, Pollard of Virginia, Foote of Tennessee, Tweed of the Tammany thieves. These are rare fellows to head a "reform" movement!

THE dispatches from all parts of the country in regard to the Baltimore Convention are about the same. Little enthusiasm over Greeley's nomination in the loyal States. An abundance of it in the late "Confederacy."

BISMARCK seems to be deadly in earnest in his proceedings against the Jesuits. The bill recently passed abolishes every convent in Germany, and all other establishments of the kind.

GREELEY Democrat to an old-fided Democrat—As you say, Horace was a Republican, an Abolitionist and a Free Trader, but he's changed. He's as good a Democrat to day as I am. (Impressively.) Look at his letter and the platform!

Greeley Republican to a War-day Republican—Horace Greeley a Democrat! Bosh! He has never changed a particle, and never will change. (With great earnestness.) Look at his letter and the platform!

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Senator Henry Wilson was in the city yesterday. He left in the evening for Long Branch.

Gen. O. O. Howard, who has been on a mission to the Indians of Arizona, arrived here yesterday, accompanied by nine Apache chiefs.

Garde Republican band gave a farewell concert at the Rink last night. Gen. Cochrane, President of the Board of Aldermen, made a brief address in behalf of the city, welcoming and complimenting the band.

During an altercation between Michael Finn and Thos. Delahanty, in a shop at 256 West Twentieth Street, last night, Finn stabbed Delahanty in the neck with a shoe knife, inflicting a wound which is thought will terminate fatally. Finn was arrested.

Gov. B. Gratz Brown arrived here yesterday. While conversing with a few friends at Glenival Hotel, he was suddenly seized with a violent attack of cholera morbus. He passed the day in a dangerous condition, apprehensions being at one time entertained that he might not recover. He continued to sink rapidly and became insensible. Owing to alarming reports Senator Schurz, Col. Wm. Grosvenor, and Joseph Pulitzer, of Mo., called to see him, but were not allowed to. Toward night he slept comfortably, and his physician pronounced him out of danger.

A Tribune's special from Washington, says the causess which led to the removal of Baron Gerolt, the German minister, have just been developed. During the Franco-German war the Baron wrote a friendly note to Bancroft Davis, observing that the French were allowed too much facility in purchasing arms in the United States. Davis replied insultingly. Gerolt showed the reply to Fish, who conciliated him by stating that the missive was beneath his notice. Shortly afterwards Gerolt received a telegram from Bismarck, reprimanding him for his conduct towards United States officials. Gerolt at once tendered his resignation, and afterwards convinced Bismarck that he had been imposed on in the matter. The Tribune states Bancroft Davis had made his own representations to Bismarck in the matter thus causing Gerolt's removal.

It is generally thought the Stokes case will be given to the jury this afternoon. The District Attorney Garvin, will probably conclude his address this morning.

The Tribune this morning publishes a letter from Senator Bayard of Delaware to a friend of that State, wherein he declares himself in favor of Greeley, and because he is particularly adverse to Grant's policy in the Senate, which he considers highly objectionable. He hopes to take an active part in the canvas before the middle of September.

The next duel in New York is foreshadowed in the following from to-day's Sun: "The paragraph quoted by the Times of yesteeday, headed "infamy of the New York Times" as originally written read "infamy of the Times" meaning simply and solely the infamy of the day, and having no reference whatever to our amiable cotemporary. In the haste of revision and, by an unaccountable accident, the words "New York" were inserted in the title, thereby wholly changing the sense of the paragraph. We are very sorry, during this unexampled heat, to have disturbed the nerves of our neighbor. Moreover, we do not hesitate to say that we consider that Judge Barnard was uninformed, and that he made an entire mistake when he said that the editor of the Times whipped his wife. Even if he did, we do not believe that it would be any concern of anybody out of the family. She is certainly a very estimable and excellent lady, and we are quite sure that no one could be brutal enough to do anything intentionally calculated to her feelings. We want to put that matter straight, square and right, and if any one wants a fight, notwithstanding the heat, we are ready."

Gov. Gratz Brown arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, and at noon attended the meeting of the National Committee of the Liberal Republicans at the Glenville Hotel. The meeting was held with closed doors, and no reporter was admitted.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Washington dispatch says: Senator Sumner used the following language to a Democratic delegation from Texas, who called upon him yesterday to ask his aid in the campaign: "I have a very high opinion of Greeley. I know his labors in behalf of the same cause to which I have devoted my life. Of course I sympathise with the movement; but the time has not come for me to speak out. It may come, however. At the present no man is authorized to speak for me."

FROM CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 13.—The journeyman barbers held a meeting last night and formed an organization, pledging themselves not to work on Sunday and looking to general reduction in hours of labor.

The Exective committees of the Lee and Cook county Woman's Suffrage Associations met yesterday, and denounced the Cincinnati and Baltimore Conventions for failing to recognize woman suffrage, and in general pronounced for the Republican candidates.

H. Schauzlin, book keeper for Mr. Lehmann, the brewer who was killed yesterday by a runaway, himself narrowly escaped death last evening in the same buggy from which his employer was killed. He was driving towards Adams street bridge, and just as he reached it noticed that it was open, and springing out his horse plunged in with the buggy and was drowned.

Reports from Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota give promise of abundant crops.

FROM LA SALLE.

LA SALLE, July 13.—Augustus Hoffman, about 13 years of age, son of Charles Hoffman, in playing about his father's warehouse in Peru this afternoon, jumped into a corn bin while the corn was running out through the shute into a car, and was being drawn under the corn into the spout and smothered. A lad who had been playing with him at the time gave the alarm, and Mr. Hoffman leaped in to rescue his son and shared the fate of the boy. Mr. Hoffman was a prominent grain merchant of Peru, and a much esteemed citizen. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their sad and terrible bereavement.

WHAT TRUMBULL KNOWS ABOUT NEPOTISM.

Among the speakers at the Greeley serenade in New York last night was "Colonel" Trumbull, son of Lyman Trumbull. How the boy Walter came by his military prefix is a secret even Edipus could not solve. He once joined in a mining stampede up in Montana. That was the nearest he ever came to soldiering.

It is a pity young Trumbull's speech was not reported. He has a piteous tale to unfold, and if he so far overcame his modesty as to expose his scars, the audience must have been melted to tears. When General Grant was inaugurated the boy was in the far Northwest, a bill of expense to his doting father. It occurred to the frugal parent that if Walter had a fat office he might foot his own bills. He thereupon made a dive for the Collectorship of Internal Revenue for the Territory of Montana. The President was a little obtuse in feeling the force of Trumbull's plea, and declined to make the appointment. Being a very pious man, Trumbull called to mind the antique female who, by the sheer force of begging in season and out of season, induced the Judge to accede to her request. In imitation of that importunity, the senior Senator from Illinois literally refused to take no for an answer. If teasing were a virtue, Lyman would be a No 1 saint, and the seal of the Trumbull family should thereafter have been IXL.

Failing utterly in getting any "soft snap" for his son at the hand of the Administration, the honorable Senator conceived a holy horror of nepotism. His sentiments on this subject were so strong and warm that they melted the iceberg which had long kept himself and Charles Sumner in frigid isolation. Old grievances and rancors were forgotten. The wormwood and the gall of their hatred for General Grant filled to the brim the glasses they touched as they swore eternal vengeance upon the Administration. Trumbull fils could have melted his hearers to tears by narrating the causes which led to that alliance, and tracing the results of it, actual and prospective. A faithful history of the Trumbull-Sumner defection would furnish a key to the whole sore-head movement.

By way of illustrating the "Liberal" consistency in bawling about nepotism, he should have stated that his father is Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and he himself its Secretary. That the force of this example might be duly appreciated, it should be added that this is the only patronage within the Senator's gift. If the serenade orator forgot to explain all this last night, we hope Judge Trumbull will do so in his Lincoln speech to-night. The people of Logan county would be interested in hearing from the honorable Senator what he knows about nepotism. He could say with all truthfulness: "No one could be better able to appreciate the evils of nepotism than myself. There is at my direct disposal one office, and only one, that of Secretary of the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which I am Chairman. That one office is filled by my own son. It requires for the right discharge of its duties a man familiar with the statutes of his country and the principles, forms and history of statutory law. He lacks in an eminent degree every quality. The consequence is that the more important part of the work he has to perform goes undone. As Wolsey bid Cromwell be warned by his fate, so let the nepotism of which I may truly say, 'all of which I saw and part of which I was,' stimulate the American people to the rebuke of Presidential nepotism."

If the desired effect were not produced by this appeal, one more resource would be left. The Senator's brother-in law, Dr. Jayne, of Springfield, now holds a pension commission, which was secured for him by the personal solicitation of Mr. Trumbull. A brave soldier was turned out to make room for the brother-in-law. But the most noticeable feature of the case is not that Jayne got the office, but that he sticks to it while fighting the Administration. A few days ago the Collector of Internal Revenue at Glen Falls, New York, resigned his position, giving as a reason that he had concluded to support Greeley and Brown. He appreciated the dishonor of clinging to an appointment and fighting his patron. The man Jayne is dead to honor.

Should the diffidence of Trumbull, father and son, keep these facts hid, some friend should bring them to light. It is announced that the Senator will soon speak at Decatur at the same time with "Jim" Robinson, the political circus rider, who is now trying to ride those two spavined nags, Sorehead and Copperhead. If James would tell the story of Trumbull's nepotism, the enthusiasm of the Liberal crowd would be excited to white heat.—Chicago Jour.

TO BE SURE, it is an absurd, nomination for a Democratic national Convento make, but it is better to elect and control him, than to elect such a Republican and leave him free. If he is regularly nominated, the whole party will be bound; but if the convention merely declines to present any candidate against him, Democrats will be as free to vote for Grant as for Greeley; and multitudes of Democrats, if left to their free choice, would not care the toss of a copper between these two Republicans. The only thing that can reconcile Democrats to Mr. Greeley's candidacy is the moral and political control the party would have over him as its regular candidate, and the obligation he would thereby incur to treat the party with deference and consideration in conducting the government. An agreement to give him our votes, and at the same time, release him from all obligation or amenability to the party, would be an act of supreme folly of which we cannot believe that the Baltimore Convention would be capable. It will be bad enough for it to give us such a candidate; but to present him in such a way as would leave him at liberty to snub and ignore the Democratic party after his election (if he should be elected), would be too preposterous.—*N. W. C. JOHNS, Sec'y.

HE ACCEPTS.

The committee appointed by the Baltimore Convention to notify Greeley and Brown of their nomination, proceeded to New York yesterday and performed that duty. Doolittle made the presentation speech, and Horace blubberingly accepted the bauble, saying that they were no less Democrats by reason of nominating him, and he was no less a Republican on account of his present associations. He invited them to his "humble home" at the farm—probably to exhibit to them his dexterity as a woodchopper—and the painful interview thereupon ended.

THE New York Post propounds a conundrum to the Greeleyites which is difficult of solution, according to the Cincinnati Commercial and Springfield Republican. It says:

"If the Grant administration has not been able to withstand the Republican regnes, how will a Greeley administration be able to withstand the Republican regnes reinforced by the Democratic rascals."

THE progress of the Democratic party toward Greeley is thus happily calendared by a contemporary:

January—That old idiot Greeley.
February—The eccentric Greeley.
March—Old Horace Greeley.
April—Horace Greeley.
May—Mr. Horace Greeley.
June—Honest Uncle Horace.
July—Hurrah for Greeley.

CONSISTENCY.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN: The Baltimore Convention is over and Horace Greeley has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. This is adopting the passive policy, as first understood and agreed upon by the Liberals and Democracy, with a hugeness. We were told by the Greeley Republicans immediately after his nomination at Cincinnati that Greeley was the reform candidate, and that he was not to be nominated by the Democracy; that Greeley was just as much a Republican now as he ever was—that they did not propose to sell out to the Democracy. That if Greeley was nominated by them, (the Democracy), why then they would vote for the Philadelphia nominee. And how nicely these Liberals and Democrats agree. Mr. Belmont, the great head and front of the Democratic party, said in his address before the Baltimore Convention, that he would support Greeley, because he, G., stood upon a Democratic platform. It seems very strange that what the Liberals call Republicanism Belmont calls good Democracy. It is the first time in the history of politics in this country that two political parties claimed the same set of principles and proposed to vote for the same candidate as their representative man. The Southern Democracy say Greeley is their man. That he will restore peace and harmony to the oppressed South and rid them of the "carpet-bag government." Yes, Greeley promised them all these things May 1st, 1867, on page four, column four of the Tribune, when he said: "Traitors must not return to peaceful and contented homes, but must and poverty at their firesides," &c. There is something sublime, Messrs. Editors, in the wholesale commingling of patriots; such shining stars of political purity" as Tweed, Hall, Sweeney, Garvey, Connolly, Hoffman, Barnard and Winans on the one side, and Trumbull, Schurz, Palmer, Fenton, and Horace White, of the Chicago Tribune, on the other.—Query: If the first eight mentioned were wrong all through the dark days of the rebellion, are they right to-day? Or if the latter five were right during the same time are they wrong to-day? Who in the name of righteousness can tell? Horace White said not long ago, that "Horace Greeley is not now, and never has been, a man who ought to be trusted with an official position requiring practical wisdom, ordinary statesmanship, or firm, consistent action. For twenty-five years he has been a marplot in council, an unreliable commander in action, a misanthrope in victory and a riotous disorganizer in defeat. He has always been fanatical in his demands for the extremest measures, and when the party has reached the eve of triumph, invariably thrusts himself forward as a negotiator of terms of surrender to the enemy." I might quote page after page from Mr. White like the above, wherein he has slathered H. G. up one side and down the other, but the above is enough to show what he once thought of him as a candidate for a high office. Now Horace White says, "Mr. Greeley has rendered great political services to the people. He has shown as great political courage as Jackson, as great honesty as Lincoln. He has as fine a sense of honor and of official delicacy as our earlier Presidents, from Washington to Monroe." If he has, Mr. White, why in the name of truth did you belie him so in my first quotation from your great "Republican paper of the Northwest." As "great honesty as Lincoln!" Yes, he must have been when you say he came to Chicago in 1860, "not to vote for Lincoln, nor Chase, but for old Edward Bates, of Missouri, one of the pupils of the slave party." You say he was "the associate and co-laborer of that other impracticable and unreliable squad—the Blair family." Mr. White reminds me of the old doctor who deposited all the remnants of his various prescriptions into an old brown jug, and when in his practice he came across a patient and could not make his diagnosis, he would resort to his old jug, and swear "he would burst things anyhow." The Liberals and Democrats swear there is something the matter, but they cannot make out their case, so they go to old Incongruity Horace Greeley, and swear he must beat Grant, when Horace has said "he never was beaten and never will be."

Oh, consistency, what a jewel.

A REPUBLICAN.

JULY 11, 1872.

THE Greeley movement has drawn to its support the most dangerous and obnoxious men in the country. Just look at them: Pease of Texas, Warmouth of Louisiana, Jo. Brown of Georgia, Pollard of Virginia, Foote of Tennessee, Tweed of the Tammany thieves. These are rare fellows to head a "reform" movement!

THE dispatches from all parts of the country in regard to the Baltimore Convention are about the same. Little enthusiasm over Greeley's nomination in the loyal States. An abundance of it in the late "Confederacy."

BISMARCK seems to be deadly in earnest in his proceedings against the Jesuits. The bill recently passed abolishes every convent in Germany, and all other establishments of the kind.

GREELEY Democrat to an unheard of Democrat—As you say, Horace was a Republican, an Abolitionist and a Free Trader, but he's changed. He's as good a Democrat to day as I am. (Impressively.) Look at his letter and the platform!

Greeley Republican to a War-day Republican—Horace Greeley a Democrat! Bosh! He has never changed a particle, and never will change. (With great earnestness.) Look at his letter and the platform!

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Senator Henry Wilson was in the city yesterday. He left in the evening for Long Branch.

Gen. O. O. Howard, who has been on a mission to the Indians of Arizona, arrived here yesterday, accompanied by nine Apache chiefs.

Garde Republican band gave a farewell concert at the Rink last night. Gen. Cochrane, President of the Board of Aldermen, made a brief address in behalf of the city, welcoming and complimenting the band.

During an altercation between Michael Finn and Thos. Delahanty, in a shop at 236 West Twentieth Street, last night, Finn stabbed Delahanty in the neck with a shoe knife, inflicting a wound which is thought will terminate fatally. Finn was arrested.

Gov. B. Gratz Brown arrived here yesterday. While conversing with a few friends at Glenival Hotel, he was suddenly seized with a violent attack of cholera morbus. He passed the day in a dangerous condition, apprehensions being at one time entertained that he might not recover. He continued to sink rapidly and became insensible. Owing to alarming reports Senator Schurz, Col. Wm. Grosvenor, and Joseph Pulitzer, of Mo., called to see him, but were not allowed to. Toward night he slept comfortably, and his physician pronounced him out of danger.

A Tribune's special from Washington, says the causes which led to the removal of Baron Gerolt, the German minister, have just been developed. During the France-German war the Baron wrote a friendly note to Bancroft Davis, observing that the French were allowed too much facility in purchasing arms in the United States. Davis replied insultingly. Gerolt showed the reply to Fish, who conciliated him by stating that the missive was beneath his notice. Shortly afterwards Gerolt received a telegram from Bismarck, reprimanding him for his conduct towards United States officials. Gerolt at once tendered his resignation, and afterwards convinced Bismarck that he had been imposed on in the matter. The Tribune states Bancroft Davis had made his own representations to Bismarck in the matter thus causing Gerolt's removal.

It is generally thought the Stokes case will be given to the jury this afternoon. The District Attorney Garvin, will probably conclude his address this morning.

The Tribune this morning publishes a letter from Senator Bayard of Delaware to a friend of that State, wherein he declares himself in favor of Greeley, and because he is particularly adverse to Grant's policy in the Senate, which he considers highly objectionable. He hopes to take an active part in the canvas before the middle of September.

The next duel in New York is foreshadowed in the following from to-day's Sun: "The paragraph quoted by the Times of yesterday, headed "infamy of the New York Times" as originally written read "infamy of the Times" meaning simply and solely the infamy of the day, and having no reference whatever to our amiable cotemporary. In the haste of revision and, by an unaccountable accident, the words "New York" were inserted in the title, thereby wholly changing the sense of the paragraph. We are very sorry, during this unexampled heat, to have disturbed the nerves of our neighbor. Moreover, we do not hesitate to say that we consider that Judge Barnard was uninformed, and that he made an entire mistake when he said that the editor of the Times whipped his wife. Even if he did, we do not believe that it would be any concern of anybody out of the family. She is certainly a very estimable and excellent lady, and we are quite sure that no one could be brutal enough to do anything intentionally calculated to her feelings. We want to put that matter straight, square and right, and if any one wants a fight, notwithstanding the heat, we are ready."

Gov. Gratz Brown arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, and at noon attended the meeting of the National Committee of the Liberal Republicans at the Glenville Hotel. The meeting was held with closed doors, and no reporter was admitted.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A Washington dispatch says: Senator Sumner used the following language to a Democratic delegation from Texas, who called upon him yesterday to ask his aid in the campaign: "I have a very high opinion of Greeley. I know his labors in behalf of the same cause to which I have devoted my life. Of course I sympathise with the movement; but the time has not come for me to speak out. It may come, however. At the present no man is authorized to speak for me."

FROM CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, July 13.—The journeymen barbers held a meeting last night and formed an organization, pledging themselves not to work on Sunday and looking to general reduction in hours of labor.

The Exective committees of the Lee and Cook county Woman's Suffrage Associations met yesterday, and denounced the Cincinnati and Baltimore Conventions for failing to recognize woman suffrage, and in general pronounced for the Republican candidates.

H. Schauzlin, book keeper for Mr. Lehmann, the brewer who was killed yesterday by a runaway, himself narrowly escaped death last evening in the same buggy from which his employer was killed. He was driving towards Adams street bridge, and just as he reached it noticed that it was open, and springing out his horse plunged in with the buggy and was drowned.

Reports from Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota give promise of abundant crops.

FROM LA SALLE.

LA SALLE, July 13.—Augustus Hoffman, about 13 years of age, son of Charles Hoffman, in playing about his father's warehouse in Peru this afternoon, jumped into a corn bin while the corn was running out through the shute into a car, and was being drawn under the corn into the spout and smothered. A lad who had been playing with him at the time gave the alarm, and Mr. Hoffman leaped in to rescue his son and shared the fate of the boy. Mr. Hoffman was a prominent grain merchant of Peru, and a much esteemed citizen. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their sad and terrible bereavement.

WHAT TRUMBULL KNOWS ABOUT NEPOTISM.

Among the speakers at the Greeley serenade in New York last night was "Colonel" Trumbull, son of Lyman Trumbull. How the boy Walter came by his military prefix is a secret even Edipus could not solve. He once joined in a mining stampede up in Montana. That was the nearest he ever came to soldiering.

It is a pity young Trumbull's speech was not reported. He has a piteous tale to unfold, and if he so far overcame his modesty as to expose his scars, the audience must have been melted to tears. When General Grant was inaugurated the boy was in the far Northwest, a bill of expense to his doting father. It occurred to the frugal parent that if Walter had a fat office he might foot his own bills. He thereupon made a dive for the Collectorship of Internal Revenue for the Territory of Montana. The President was a little obtuse in feeling the force of Trumbull's plea, and declined to make the appointment. Being a very pious man, Trumbull called to mind the antique female who, by the sheer force of begging in season and out of season, induced the Judge to accede to her request. In imitation of that importunity, the senior Senator from Illinois literally refused to take no for an answer. If teasing were a virtue, Lyman would be a No 1 saint, and the seal of the Trumbull family should thereafter have been IXL.

Failing utterly in getting any "soft snap" for his son at the hand of the Administration, the honorable Senator conceived a holy horror of nepotism. His sentiments on this subject were so strong and warm that they melted the iceberg which had long kept himself and Charles Sumner in frigid isolation. Old grievances and rancors were forgotten. The wormwood and the gall of their hatred for General Grant filled to the brim the glasses they touched as they swore eternal vengeance upon the Administration. Trumbull fils could have melted his hearers to tears by narrating the causes which led to that alliance, and tracing the results of it, actual and prospective. A faithful history of the Trumbull-Sumner defection would furnish a key to the whole sore-head movement.

By way of illustrating the "Liberal" consistency in bawling about nepotism, he should have stated that his father is Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and he himself its Secretary. That the force of this example might be duly appreciated, it should be added that this is the only patronage within the Senator's gift. If the serenade orator forgot to explain all this last night, we hope Judge Trumbull will do so in his Lincoln speech to-night. The people of Logan county would be interested in hearing from the honorable Senator what he knows about nepotism. He could say with all truthfulness: "No one could be better able to appreciate the evils of nepotism than myself. There is at my direct disposal one office, and only one, that of Secretary of the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which I am Chairman. That one office is filled by my own son. It requires for the right discharge of its duties a man familiar with the statutes of his country and the principles, forms and history of statutory law. He lacks in an eminent degree every quality. The consequence is that the more important part of the work he has to perform goes undone. As Wolsey bid Cromwell be warned by his fate, so let the nepotism of which I may truly say, 'all of which I saw and part of which I was,' stimulate the American people to the rebuke of Presidential nepotism."

If the desired effect were not produced by this appeal, one more resource would be left. The Senator's brother-in-law, Dr. Jayne, of Springfield, now holds a pension commission, which was secured for him by the personal solicitation of Mr. Trumbull. A brave soldier was turned out to make room for the brother-in-law. But the most noticeable feature of the case is not that Jayne got the office, but that he sticks to it while fighting the Administration. A few days ago the Collector of Internal Revenue at Glen Falls, New York, resigned his position, giving as a reason that he had concluded to support Greeley and Brown. He appreciated the dishonor of clinging to an appointment and fighting his patron. The man Jayne is dead to honor.

Should the diffidence of Trumbull, father and son, keep these facts hid, some friend should bring them to light. It is announced that the Senator will soon speak at Decatur at the same time with "Jim" Robinson, the political circus rider, who is now trying to ride those two spavined nags, Sorehead and Copperhead. If James would tell the story of Trumbull's nepotism, the enthusiasm of the Liberal crowd would be excited to white heat.—Chicago Jour.

TO BE SURE, it is an absurd, nomination for a Democratic national Convention to make, but it is better to elect and control him, than to elect such a Republican and leave him free. If he is regularly nominated, the whole party will be bound; but if the convention merely declines to present any candidate against him, Democrats will be as free to vote for Grant as for Greeley; and multitudes of Democrats, if left to their free choice, would not care the toss of a copper between these two Republicans. The only thing that can reconcile Democrats to Mr. Greeley's candidacy is the moral and political control the party would have over him as its regular candidate, and the obligation he would thereby incur to treat the party with deference and consideration in conducting the government. An agreement to give him our votes, and at the same time, release him from all obligation or amenability to the party, would be an act of supreme folly of which we cannot believe that the Baltimore Convention would be capable. It will be bad enough for it to give us such a candidate; but to present him in such a way as would leave him at liberty to snub and ignore the Democratic party after his election (if he should be elected), would be too preposterous.—N. Y. World.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

..Oh, how hot!

...The thermometer stood at 95 this noon.

..New wheat starts in at $1.25 per bushel.

..The thermometer was 101 in the shade at Springfield yesterday.

...How many will there be to go and see Lyman tremble this afternoon?

...In Greene county, last week, $250,000 were drawn from the banks to pay harvest hands.

...The Spriengfield Rolling Mill is having a great deal of old iron shipped to them via this point.

...Fred. Kuny is bottling excellent spruce beer. It is a new thing in this section in the beverage line, and will undoubtedly take well.

...As we go to press Hon. J. C. Robinson is speaking in the court house to a perspiring crowd of 200 Democrats and 300 Republicans. Senator Trumbull will speak to-night.

.. It's all a mistake to suppose that the Democrats are supporting Horace Greeley for President. The name of their candidate is "Grecly," at least that's the way they spell it on their flag.

...In the race last night between the Hook and Ladder and Hose Co. No. 2, the latter came out a little ahead. But we cannot see any advantage to be gained by racing these hot evenings.

...The musca domestica is getting to be a dreadfully superfluous creature, now-a-days. It is probably more numerous than has been known for many years. Don't get alarmed, reader, we mean the house-fly.

...This is the great hurrah day for the Democrats. Their flag floats for "Grecly & Brown." So H. G. has lost something since the Democrats have swallowed him. They don't like to have so many 'e's' in his name.

...Mosquitoes are getting to be troublesome of nights. It is said that if you will suspend a lump of gum camphor in the window of your sleeping room at night, they will not enter the apartment. Almost all insects dislike camphor.

...A Quaker who had been troubled with rats informs a friend that he greased a thirty-foot board, filled it full of fish hooks, set it up at an angle of forty-five degrees, and put an old cheese at the top. The rats went up, slid back, and he caught thirty of 'em the first night.

...One of the "unterrified" who came to town to-day, upon being asked how he liked Greeley, replied with an eloquent oath, "I have always been a Democrat, but I'd rather fill my mouth with rotten eggs, and hold my nose till I got home, than to vote for that old Abolitionist."

...An ungallant cotemporary thus writes: "The modern woman, when she has a nail to drive, doesn't wait for her husband to come home. She catches hold of the nail as she would into the hair of a recreant son, swings the hammer over her head and plunges downward. Then she ties up her fingers as well as she can, puts on her best bonnet, and goes right over to her mother's to have a good cry, and her tea."

Curious Phenomenon.—Last Thursday evening, about 5 o'clock, there was observed a large cloud in the northwest, and at the lower end of it there appeared a singular object, looking at the first glance like a small streak of cloud in the shape of a water spout, which now and then could be seen to waver to and fro. Yesterday evening we were informed that some gentlemen who came from near Mt. Pulaski, reported that this phenomenon visited that section of the country, tearing up the corn crops, and badly damaging everything it came across. What could have accounted for such a strange phenomenon as this? It was reported to be a water spout, but we very seldom hear of water spouts traversing over dry land.

NEW CORN for the table made its appearance in the market yesterday, for the first time this season.—Jacksonville Journal.

You are very much behind. We have had new corn for two weeks.

By order of

[12-3t] EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

FROM MACON.

MACON, ILL., July 12, 1872.

EDITORS DAILY REPUBLICAN:—Now that the Democracy at Baltimore have nominated Horace Greeley as their candidate for the Presidency, it will not be amiss for Republicans to ponder upon the lesson that it teaches. We all remember the dark days of war and blood that we as a party had to wade through, armed on the one hand by the sword and in the other carrying the constitution as handed down by its framers, and commented upon by such great men as Washington, Franklin, Adams, Jefferson, and a host of noble men, who taught us to revere its sacred teachings. That we as a Republican party have proved true to the great trust reposed in us history has recorded; for four long years we contested its principles on the battle field, in the Senate, in Congress, and in the Executive chair—subsequently we have been enabled to preserve all that is near and dear to every patriot heart by the election of Gen. Grant to the Presidency, and by controlling the co ordinate branches of the government.—That the enemy of Republican government was still lurking in the back ground, under the guise of Democracy, was equally true, and now has developed itself anew in the nomination of Horace Greeley at Baltimore. It is sickening to the heart of every true Republican to think that any man acting with and calling himself one of the founders of the Republican party could be found base enough to make barter and sale of himself to the enemies of our country. But such is the case, as appears from conferences between Greeley, Waldo Hutchins, and Horatio Seymour, Ambition—mad ambition—is the cause of all of this! Greeley, not being able to exercise the one man power in ruling the President and Congress—which he has tried to do for over a year—proposes to become a tool for the ruin of the country and the party with whom he has acted since its organization. The Liberal Republican movement is but the catspaw of the adroit Horace and the leaders of the Democratic party—to take from Grant's support to swell the number of those who would rather see the country as demoralized as Mexico is, than see Gen. Grant its savior and the Republican party in power.

The effect of all this treason, in high places, will be to unite all the friends of good government against all its enemies, and before November's chilling blasts sweep over the fields they will have fallen like the sere and yellow leaf, I trust to rise no more. Then, and not till then, will the vexed question of free government be established and placed where the friends of monarchy will not laugh at our experiment. G.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN:—I just returned from a trip south, and while at Morrisonville saw one of the saddest accidents I have witnessed for some time. The freight train was on the south switch and had some switching to do. While running by the platform at considerable speed, a man by the name of Burnett, of the firm of Willis & Burnett, hide dealers in St. Louis, attempted to get in a box car. He caught at the iron hold of two cars, both of which pulled from his grasp, and when he caught hold of the third he held on so hard that it jerked and threw him under the car, which run over his right arm and completely mashed it from his elbow close into the shoulder joint, and also badly bruising the top of his head. He was taken into a vacant building, and all that could be done to make him comfortable was done by the citizens. A dispatch was sent to Taylorville for a doctor, but before he arrived the wound proved fatal. He died in about two hours. A dispatch was also sent to St. Louis, and parties answered that they would be there that night. The man came to his mind before dying, and stated that he had a family in St. Louis. He was a fine, stout-looking man, and had as good a prospect Friday morning of living twenty or thirty years as almost any of us.

One of the heaviest storms of rain and hail visted Taylorville and vicinity that has been seen for a long time. Some fields of grain are laid perfectly flat.

Harvesting is going on as fast as possible, and farmers seem to be very hopeful. L. W.

We say to Housekeepers,—Try Dr. Price's Flavorings, Vanilla, Lemon, Nectarine, Almond, Rose, Clove, and all extracts used for flavoring ice cream, jellies, cakes, etc., and you will observe that they are perfect in purity, superior strength, and bottles contain more than others sold for same quantity. We assure you that they are equal to his Cream Baking Powder, which no family that once have in use will ever be without.

One single trial will prove what we say to be true.

New Dry Goods Store.—Will open out, Tuesday morning, July 16th, $12,000 worth of durable fresh goods domestics, prints, silks, dress goods, white goods, &c. Most of them have been bought in the last ten days. Must be turned into CASH at ONCE, and will be sold at a sacrifice of 25 to 40 per cent. below value. Wait and give us a look. LLOYD & CO.

[July 11—w1t-d3t.]

The Squirt Last Evening.—At 7½ sharp, the two hose companies and the hook and ladder companies met together at the corner of Broadway and Eldorado streets. On meeting, the Hose Co. No. 2 gave three cheers for Hose Co. No. 1, and three more were given for the Hook and Ladder Co. The two latter companies then gave three cheers for Hose No. 2, and altogether gave three cheers for the Fire Department of Decatur. The companies then went east on Eldorado street. Hose No. 1 attaching their hose to the plug in front of Elwood's factory, and Hose No. 2 attaching to a plug on the other side of the railroad. They played for about 15 minutes, throwing two splendid streams. After they quit, they reeled their hose, went to Cerro Gordo street and thence to Water. Coming down Water their line was formed as follows: The 1st and 2d Assistant Fire Engineers in advance. Behind them walked the foremen of the three companies abreast. After them came the Hook and Ladder in the center, and a Hose Company on either side, the head men on the rope holding hands across the line. The sight was a suggestive one of harmony and good feeling between all the companies. They went thus to the old square, and the line broke, and they proceeded to the Hook and Ladder Co.'s house, were three cheers were given for the 1st and 2d Assistant Engineers, Hose No. 2, Hose No. 1, and finally for Hook and Ladder. After which there was a little race between No. 2 and Hook and Ladder, during which Hose No. 1 went to the old square, put on a section of hose to a plug, and then retired after playing a few minutes. The whole affair was well conducted throughout, and gave great satisfaction to the beholders.

FOR CASH!

From and after this date we will sell goods for cash and cash only. We have adopted this system because we desire to save our customers from five to eight per cent. on what they buy.

We have reduced the prices on our goods to a point which will enable any practical person to see the benefits derived from the cash system. Give us a trial.

July 10-tf J. ULLRICH & CO.

A Nuisance.—The custom of posting bills on the entrance ways of our churches is reprehensible, and should cease. It is nothing but Sunday advertising, and a man would be no less guilty who stood at these church entrance ways on Sabbath morning and distributed his bills. The man who posted Llod & Co.'s "Opening Day" on the store entrance of the Chapel had better remove it at once.

ONE OF THE MEMBERS.

Now is the Time.—S. M. Straily, at No. 20 East Main street, is selling his groceries at the very lowest figures for cash. He has superior facilities for buying, and can sell very low. Go and examine his stock, and be convinced.

Cool off, by partaking of that excellent ice cream of Hoit & Krone's, over the post office. This weather will make it particularly enjoyable.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

..Oh, how hot!

...The thermometer stood at 95 this noon.

..New wheat starts in at $1.25 per bushel.

..The thermometer was 101 in the shade at Springfield yesterday.

...How many will there be to go and see Lyman tremble this afternoon?

...In Greene county, last week, $250,000 were drawn from the banks to pay harvest hands.

...The Springfield Rolling Mill is having a great deal of old iron shipped to them via this point.

...Fred. Kany is bottling excellent spruce beer. It is a new thing in this section in the beverage line, and will undoubtedly take well.

...As we go to press Hon. J. C. Robinson is speaking in the court house to a perspiring crowd of 200 Democrats and 300 Republicans. Senator Trumbull will speak to-night.

.. It's all a mistake to suppose that the Democrats are supporting Horace Greeley for President. The name of their candidate is "Greely," at least that's the way they spell it on their flag.

...In the race last night between the Hook and Ladder and Hose Co. No. 2, the latter came out a little ahead. But we cannot see any advantage to be gained by racing these hot evenings.

...The musca domestica is getting to to be a dreadfully superfluous creature, now-a-days. It is probably more numerous than has been known for many years. Don't get alarmed, reader, we mean the house-fly.

...This is the great hurrah day for the Democrats. Their flag floats for "Greely & Brown." So H. G. has lost something since the Democrats have swallowed him. They don't like to have so many 'e's' in his name.

...Mosquitoes are getting to be troublesome of nights. It is said that if you will suspend a lump of gum camphor in the window of your sleeping room at night, they will not enter the apartment. Almost all insects dislike camphor.

...A Quaker who had been troubled with rats informs a friend that he greased a thirty-foot board, filled it full of fish hooks, set it up at an angle of forty-five degrees, and put an old cheese at the top. The rats went up, slid back, and he caught thirty of 'em the first night.

...One of the "unterrified" who came to town to-day, upon being asked how he liked Greeley, replied with an eloquent oath, "I have always been a Democrat, but I'd rather fill my mouth with rotten eggs, and hold my nose till I got home, than to vote for that old Abolitionist."

...An ungallant cotemporary thus writes: "The modern woman, when she has a nail to drive, doesn't wait for her husband to come home. She catches hold of the nail as she would into the hair of a recreant son, swings the hammer over her head and plunges downward. Then she ties up her fingers as well as she can, puts on her best bonnet, and goes right over to her mother's to have a good cry, and her tea."

Curious Phenomenon.—Last Thursday evening, about 5 o'clock, there was observed a large cloud in the northwest, and at the lower end of it there appeared a singular object, looking at the first glance like a small streak of cloud in the shape of a water spout, which now and then could be seen to waver to and fro. Yesterday evening we were informed that one gentlemen who came from near Mt. Pulaski, reported that this phenomenon visited that section of the country, tearing up the corn crops, and badly damaging everything it came across. What could have accounted for such a strange phenomenon as this? It was reported to be a water spout, but we very seldom hear of water spouts traversing over dry land.

NEW CORN for the table made its appearance in the market yesterday, for the first time this season.—Jacksonville Journal.

You are very much behind. We have had new corn for two weeks.

Hon. JOS. G. CANNON,

By order of

[12-3t] EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

FROM MACON.

MACON, ILL., July 12, 1872.

EDITORS DAILY REPUBLICAN:—Now that the Democracy at Baltimore have nominated Horace Greeley as their candidate for the Presidency, it will not be amiss for Republicans to ponder upon the lesson that it teaches. We all remember the dark days of war and blood that we as a party had to wade through, armed on the one hand by the sword and in the other carrying the constitution as handed down by its framers, and commented upon by such great men as Washington, Franklin, Adams, Jefferson, and a host of noble men, who taught us to revere its sacred teachings. That we as a Republican party have proved true to the great trust reposed in us history has recorded; for four long years we contested its principles on the battle field, in the Senate, in Congress, and in the Executive chair—subsequently we have been enabled to preserve all that is near and dear to every patriot heart by the election of Gen. Grant to the Presidency, and by controlling the co ordinate branches of the government.—That the enemy of Republican government was still lurking in the back ground, under the guise of Democracy, was equally true, and now has developed itself anew in the nomination of Horace Greeley at Baltimore. It is sickening to the heart of every true Republican to think that any man acting with and calling himself one of the founders of the Republican party could be found base enough to make barter and sale of himself to the enemies of our country. But such is the case, as appears from conferences between Greeley, Waldo Hutchins, and Horatio Seymour, Ambition—mad ambition—is the cause of all of this! Greeley, not being able to exercise the one man power in ruling the President and Congress—which he has tried to do for over a year—proposes to become a tool for the ruin of the country and the party with whom he has acted since its organization. The Liberal Republican movement is but the catspaw of the adroit Horace and the leaders of the Democratic party—to take from Grant's support to swell the number of those who would rather see the country as demoralized as Mexico is, than see Gen. Grant its savior and the Republican party in power.

The effect of all this treason, in high places, will be to unite all the friends of good government against all its enemies, and before November's chilling blasts sweep over the fields they will have fallen like the sere and yellow leaf, I trust to rise no more. Then, and not till then, will the vexed question of free government be established and placed where the friends of monarchy will not laugh at our experiment.

G.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN:—I just returned from a trip south, and while at Morrisonville saw one of the saddest accidents I have witnessed for some time. The freight train was on the south switch and had some switching to do. While running by the platform at considerable speed, a man by the name of Burnett, of the firm of Willis & Burnett, hide dealers in St. Louis, attempted to get in a box car. He caught at the iron hold of two cars, both of which pulled from his grasp, and when he caught hold of the third he held on so hard that it jerked and threw him under the car, which run over his right arm and completely mashed it from his elbow close into the shoulder joint, and also badly bruising the top of his head. He was taken into a vacant building, and all that could be done to make him comfortable was done by the citizens. A dispatch was sent to Taylorville for a doctor, but before he arrived the wound proved fatal. He died in about two hours. A dispatch was also sent to St. Louis, and parties answered that they would be there that night. The man came to his mind before dying, and stated that he had a family in St. Louis. He was a fine, stout-looking man, and had as good a prospect Friday morning of living twenty or thirty years as almost any of us.

One of the heaviest storms of rain and hail visited Taylorville and vicinity that has been seen for a long time. Some fields of grain are laid perfectly flat.

Harvesting is going on as fast as possible, and farmers seem to be very hopeful.

L. W.

We say to Housekeepers,—Try Dr. Price's Flavorings, Vanilla, Lemon, Nectarine, Almond, Rose, Clove, and all extracts used for flavoring ice cream, jellies, cakes, etc., and you will observe that they are perfect in purity, superior strength, and bottles contain more than others sold for same quantity. We assure you that they are equal to his Cream Baking Powder, which no family that once have in use will ever be without.

One single trial will prove what we say to be true.

New Dry Goods Store.—Will open out, Tuesday morning, July 16th, $12,000 worth of durable fresh goods domestics, prints, silks, dress goods, white goods, &c. Most of them have been bought in the last ten days. Must be turned into CASH at ONCE, and will be sold at a sacrifice of 25 to 40 per cent. below value. Wait and give us a look.

LLOYD & Co.

[July 11—w1t-d3t.]

The Squirt Last Evening.—At 7½ sharp, the two hose companies and the hook and ladder companies met together at the corner of Broadway and Eldorado streets. On meeting, the Hose Co. No. 2 gave three cheers for Hose Co. No. 1, and three more were given for the Hook and Ladder Co. The two latter companies then gave three cheers for Hose No. 2, and altogether gave three cheers for the Fire Department of Decatur. The companies then went east on Eldorado street. Hose No. 1 attaching their hose to the plug in front of Elwood's factory, and Hose No. 2 attaching to a plug on the other side of the railroad. They played for about 15 minutes, throwing two splendid streams. After they quit, they reeled their hose, went to Cerro Gordo street and thence to Water. Coming down Water their line was formed as follows: The 1st and 2d Assistant Fire Engineers in advance. Behind them walked the foremen of the three companies abreast. After them came the Hook and Ladder in the center, and a Hose Company on either side, the head men on the rope holding hands across the line. The sight was a suggestive one of harmony and good feeling between all the companies. They went thus to the old square, and the line broke, and they proceeded to the Hook and Ladder Co.'s house, were three cheers were given for the 1st and 2d Assistant Engineers, Hose No. 2, Hose No. 1, and finally for Hook and Ladder. After which there was a little race between No. 2 and Hook and Ladder, during which Hose No. 1 went to the old square, put on a section of hose to a plug, and then retired after playing a few minutes. The whole affair was well conducted throughout, and gave great satisfaction to the beholders.

FOR CASH!

From and after this date we will sell goods for cash and cash only. We have adopted this system because we desire to save our customers from five to eight per cent. on what they buy.

We have reduced the prices on our goods to a point which will enable any practical person to see the benefits derived from the cash system. Give us a trial.

July 10-tf J. ULLRICH & CO.

A Nuisance.—The custom of posting bills on the entrance ways of our churches is reprehensible, and should cease. It is nothing but Sunday advertising, and a man would be no less guilty who stood at these church entrance ways on Sabbath morning and distributed his bills. The man who posted Llod & Co.'s "Opening Day" on the store entrance of the Chapel had better remove it at once.

ONE OF THE MEMBERS.

Now is the Time.—S. M. Straily, at No. 20 East Main street, is selling his groceries at the very lowest figures for cash. He has superior facilities for buying, and can sell very low. Go and examine his stock, and be convinced.

Cool off, by partaking of that excellent ice cream of Hoit & Krone's, over the post office. This weather will make it particularly enjoyable.

A Book of about 500 octavo pages, fully illustrated. The illustrations are drawn by Henry Stephens, of New York, expressly for this work, and are entirely original, and pronounced the finest drawings, both humorous and grave, yet executed on the great Campaign we are just entering. ONCE TOO OFTEN.

The Oscillations of Mr. Greeley—And the Fate of His Picture.

The Schoharie Union gives the following paragraph: "For thirty years the portrait of Horace Greeley has adorned the sanctum of the Union office. When he advocated secession in 1860 the picture was turned with face to the wall. As soon as Horace saw the error of his ways the picture was reversed, and once more the smiling countenance of Greeley illuminated our office. In 1864, when he threatened to bolt the nomination of Abraham Lincoln, the picture was again reversed. Once more he repented and the picture was reversed. When he signed Jeff Davis' bail bond we turned him again to wall for three months, and again when he took up the defense of Tammany Hall. We have tried him long enough. He is the greatest political acrobat of modern times, and now that he has gone over to the camp of the Democracy we don't propose to take the chances of placing his portrait to the right about a dozen times in the future as we have in the past. This time we take the portrait down."

SECOND:

All their "acaion," peculiarities of construction, and various improvements, have been copied by nearly all the American piano manufacturers, and also by a large number of celebrated European makers. As an incontrovertible proof of the great superiority of the New Over-Strung Piano System introduced by Steinway & Sons, the fact may be stated that, at the Paris Exposition, out of eleven exhibitors of Pianos constructed after the Steinway System, two received Gold Medals, (the first and third prizes), and eight received silver medals, while, of over three hundred pianos exhibited on the old plan of construction, with straight strings, only three received gold medals, and twenty-two silver medals—a proportion of

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the world to be the MOST PERFECT, natural, artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

THEIR FINISH AND DURABILITY

CANNOT BE SURPASSED.

Harper's Magazine

Notices of the Press:

There are few intelligent American families in which Harper's Magazine would not be an appreciated and highly welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated. Harper's is edited. There is not a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular Magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

Most of our younger and many of our older writers find here their literary biography. Our artists see the best evidences of their genius and the most enduring specimens of their work in the Magazine.—N. Y. Standard.

Everywhere, by the most competent and inflexible judges the world can produce, many of whom were previously prejudiced in favor of other instruments, their crowning triumph having been achieved at the Universal Exposition in Paris, where Steinway & Sons were awarded

The First Gold Medal!

For American Pianos, by the UNANIMOUS VERDICT of the International Jury, and placed at the head of all others. The United States not being represented among the jurors.

SECOND:

All their "action," peculiarities of construction, and various improvements, have been copied by nearly all the American piano manufacturers, and also by a large number of celebrated European makers. As an incontrovertible proof of the great superiority of the New Over-Strung Piano System introduced by Steinway & Sons, the fact may be stated that, at the Paris Exposition, out of eleven exhibitors of Pianos constructed after the Steinway System, two received Gold Medals, (the first and third prizes), and eight received silver medals, while of over three hundred pianos exhibited on the old plan of construction, with straight strings, only three received gold medals, and twenty-two silver medals a proportion of

The Diamond Glasses,

MANUFACTURED BY

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the world to be the MOST PERFECT, natural, artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.

THEIR FINISH AND DURABILITY

CANNOT BE SURPASSED.

CAUTION.—None genuine unless bearing their trade mark stamped on every frame.

Harper's Weekly.

Notices of the Press:

The Model Newspaper of our country.—Complete in all the departments of an American Family Paper, Harper's Weekly has earned for itself a right to its title, "A Journal of Civilization."—New York Evening Post.

Its columns contain the finest collections of reading-matter that are printed. * * * Its illustrations are numerous and beautiful, being furnished by the chief artists of the country.—Boston Traveller.

Harper's Weekly is the best and most interesting illustrated newspaper. Nor does its value depend on its illustrations alone.—Its reading-matter is of a high order of literary merit—varied, instructive, entertaining and unexceptionable.—N. Y. Sun.

"Unquestionably the Best Sustained Work of the kind in the World."

Harper's Magazine

Notices of the Press:

There are few intelligent American families in which Harper's Magazine would not be an appreciated and highly welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated. Harper's is edited. There is not a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular Magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

A repository of biography and history, literature, science and art, unequaled by any other American publication. * * * The volumes are as valuable as a mere work of reference as any cyclopedia we can place in our libraries. Harper's Magazine is a record of travel everywhere since the hour of its establishment. Livingstone and Gordon Cumming in Africa, Strain among the Andes and Ross Browne in the East, Speke on the Nile and Macgregor on the Jordan—indeed all recent travellers of note have seen their most important discoveries reproduced in these pages. Most of our younger and many of our older writers find here their literary biography. Our artists see the best evidences of their genius and the most enduring specimens of their work in the Magazine.—N. Y. Standard.
